In a blinding rain this seaplane was catapulted into flight from the deck of the U. S. S. Oklahoma off Los Angeles last week, the first in aviation history.

THOUSANDS SERVED BY TOURIST BUREAU

In 1921 the Portland office gave personal service to 7000 persons.

In 1922 the Portland office gave personal service to over 16,000 persons, an increase of over 100 per cent over 1921.

In 1922 five branch bureaus were established, Medford, Klamath Falls, Bend, Pendleton and Ontario being the points. They gave personal service to approximately 10,000 persons.

In 1921 the Bureau printed and distributed 60,000 road maps of Oregon. On the back of these maps were printed sectional maps of portions of Oregon, giving in detail the road systems of the various sections. All so printed on the back of a large number of Oregon maps, a road map of the state of Washington, used in directing tourists into that state.

The Bureau in 1922 printed 200,000 road maps of Oregon, with the road systems of various sections of the state on the reverse side, as in 1921. There was also printed on the reverse side of the Oregon maps 37,500 road maps of California, 36,000 of Washington, 21,750 of Idaho, the greater numbers of which were distributed in those states through the garages, service stations, Chambers of Commerce, etc., and brought tremendous returns, thousands of people coming into the state from adjoining states who would not otherwise have visited Oregon in 1922. Of these maps less than 15,000 remained on hand for winter and spring.

The Bureau in 1921 mailed out over 4000 files of literature to eastern and other inquirers, and in 1922 mailed out about 5000 such files. These included not only tourists literature but the booklets and publicity of Chambers of Commerce of Oregon, covering agricultural and other opportunities in this state. Impartial service has been rendered all sections of the state.

The Bureau is becoming known throughout the country, letters of inquiry from various sections of the United States and Canada being frequently received.

The Bureau had printed the story of the Old Oregon Trail, which has been broadly distributed and also has distributed many thousands of copies of the "Lure of Oregon."

The Bureau also had erected five pictorial signboards 10 by 50 ft. advertising Crater Lake, Oregon Caves, Mt. Hood, Columbia River Highway, Wallowa Lake district and the Blue Mountains. Crater Lake sign was placed on the most traveled highway near Los Angeles; Oregon Caves on the Pacific Highway just south of San Francisco; Wallowa Lake district on the Lincoln Highway just east of Salt Lake; Blue Mountains, just east of Pocatello; Columbia River Highway on the Yellowstone trail, just east of Spokane, and Mt. Hood on the Yellowstone trail just east of Walla Walla.

The Bureau has established friendly working relations with many "trail" associations and with the automobile clubs of California, to the benefit of Oregon and the development of tourist traffic into Oregon.

The Bureau carries a tremendous quantity of resort and travel literature, tens of thousands of such pieces of literature being distributed.

The Bureau maintains at all times, readily accessible, all sorts of information such as may be helpful to tourists and strangers in the state, complete information regarding the automobile camp grounds of the state, the automobile ferries, resort hotels, fishing and hunting information, and mass of such matter. Rarely is the Bureau "stumped" for an accurate answer to any question, and when it is, it gets the information ing any right, title, estate, lien or interest therein, and for such other and further relief as may be just and equitable.

This summons is published upon you in The Gazette-Times once a week for six successive weeks pursuant to an order of Hon. Gilbert W. Phelps, Judge of the above entitled court, which order is dated December 11th, 1922, and the date of the first publication of this summons is December 14th, 1922.

Miss Blanche Fahy, grade teacher in the local schools, is spending her holiday vacation at Patrick City, visiting with her friends, Miss Margaret Brown. Miss Brown was bookkeeper for Messrs. Oxman & Harrington road contractors, while they had offices in Heppner last year.

The total Oregon acreage seeded this fall is estimated at 852,000 acres which compares with an estimate of 861,000 acres seeded a year ago. Condition reports indicated 91 per cent of normal on Dec. 1, which compares with 92 per cent last year, 97 per cent in 1920, and 92 per cent for the ten year average.

The total U. S. acreage seeded this fall is estimated at 46,000,000 which is 3.2 per cent less than the revised estimate of 47,611,000 acres seeded last fall. Condition of the U. S. crop is reported as 79.5 per cent. December 1 condition last fall was 76 per cent; 1920 was 87.0 per cent and the 10 year average 87.9 per cent.

Acreage and December 1 condition in some of the leading winter wheat states are reported as follows: Kansas 12,284,000, and 73 per cent; Oklahoma, 3,753,000, and 81 per cent; Nebraska, 3,319,000, and 68 per cent; Texas 1,895,000 and 76 per cent; Colorado, 1,578,000 and 68 per cent; Washington 1,466,000 and 77 per cent; Oregon 852,000 and 91 per cent; California 813,000 and 96 per cent.

Condition of the Oregon crop has improved somewhat since December 1. While the past week has been unusually cold, most of the wheat fields have a good snow covering which fell on unfrozen ground. In much of the wheat belt a good rain preceded the snow, so that soil moisture conditions have been materially improved. On the strength of this improvement some growers who had engaged seed for spring reseeding, have cancelled their orders. It is pretty generally expected that more than the usual amount of reseeding will be necessary, due to unfavorable fall seeding and growing conditions, but not much can be determined definitely until early spring.

Condition of the U. S. crop has been somewhat impaired of late due to severe cold and lack of snow covering.

RYE: The Oregon rye for grain acreage seeded this fall is estimated at 34,000 acres compared with 37,000 acres seeded last fall. Condition of the crop is placed at 90 per cent. The Dec. 1 condition last year was 96 per cent, the 1920 condition was 96 per cent and the 10 year average 96 per cent.

The U. S. rye acreage seeded this fall is placed at 5,508,000 acres, compared with 6,210,000 acres in 1921. The Dec. 1, 1922, condition was 84.3 per cent, 1920, 90.5 per cent and the 10 year average 90.5 per cent.

Foreign Crop Notes

Latest forecasts indicate a wheat harvest in Argentina and Australia for 1922-23 about 7,000,000 bushels greater than for the year preceding. In South Africa climatic conditions are generally favorable, although rains have been much needed in some sections.

Fall seeding in Europe generally has been delayed, but the condition of the crop is good. Increased acreages of winter grains are reported for this year in Europe, Italy and Bulgaria. In Germany the acreage is about the same as last year with a somewhat lower condition.

The Russian wheat production for 1922 has been roughly estimated at about 40 per cent increase over 1921 but it is not considered probable that there will be any of the crop for export. Condition of the new wheat crop is reported to be only fair, but it is estimated that there has been a marked increase over the acreage of recent years.

F. L. KENT, Agr. Statistician.

A Christmas party was enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Ferguson of Sand Hollow on Monday evening, followed by an old fashioned country dance, all of which was greatly enjoyed by the people of the neighborhood.
